Savannah, April 23, 1851.

The Cuba Invaders—Gen. Quintana at the Head—Par-parations to Leave the United States, &c.

The subject which almost exclusively occupies the attention of our citizens at this time, is that of the Cuban expedition. Before you receive this letter, a branch of that expedition will probably have sailed from the Atlantic coast.

During the last week a considerable number of men have arrived at a point on the railroad about twenty miles from this city, and marched thence to Jacksonville in Florida, in the neighborhood of which place are the headquarters of Lopez. On Wednesday morning last, above two hundred arrived in one special train. On Friday last, Gonzales and Lopez—the latter in disguise—came from Mexico in the cars; but they left the train just before it reached the city; and it was fortunate for them that they did so, for officers of the United States were waiting at the depot.

General Quintana is in Savannah on Saturday, probably certain that he is to lead the forces which will attack Cuba. It is said that on Saturday, Lopez and Gonzales were concealed at the residence of one of our wealthy citizens, and that they are now somewhere on the coast, waiting to embark. Large amounts of money have been contributed by wealthy merchants and planters in this State to sustain this expedition, and the most sanguine hopes of success are entertained.

The preparations have not been kept secret, but for several weeks Gonzales has been openly engaged in procuring supplies of money and men, and he has not hesitated to show letters from officers of the Spanish army, and from discontented Creoles in Cuba, to Lopez, assuring him of the most extensive and as soon as he shall land on the island, and urging him to appear there, even if he should appear alone.

This morning the Deputy U. S. Marshal chartered the steamboat Wokala, and with a few assistants, started for Florida, to arrest a man he could find in any way connected with the expedition; but it is suspected here that the Wokala comes to interfere, she will be captured by the invaders, and be made to assist in transporting them to Cuba.

Stolen Murder of a Husband & Wife, and Child—Decision of the Contested Election Case—Arrival of the City of Glasgow.

The body of a German and his wife, occupying a farm recently purchased by them a short distance from the road, were found outside their own door still. They had been brutally murdered; the axe, the weapon with which the凶徒 deed was perpetrated, being found beside the bodies. A small rental house, the sight of the discoveries of the murderer's acts of the houses, where a child about two years of age was discovered butchered in the same manner. Information of the fact was brought to the Marshal of Police this morning, and with a party of officers he started to the scene of the murder, and justice was done. Two Americans, who were employed upon the farm, are suspected. The deceased was supposed to have money in his purse and the possession of this was doubted by the police.
